JEWELLERY NEWSLETTER

DECEMBER 2010

As we step towards winter, I hope you are finding jewellery to match your winter wardrobe. It was great to see so many of you at the Nepean Craft Show in Ottawa. Thanks for dropping in to my boutique. For those of you who made purchases, I know you must be enjoying your new jewellery. Time is running out to shop for holiday gifts, but you can still find me at the Red Trillium Studio Tour or at my studio in Chelsea.

VISIT MY STUDIO on Thursday evenings from now until Christmas. Please call for an appointment. Thursdays from 4 – 9 pm.

CROCHETING IN METAL The bracelet featured above was commissioned for a client, in the theme of my STITCHES collection. I crocheted the bracelet in fine silver with added garnet beads and pearls. Best of all, it's reversible! To complete the look, it is paired with matching earrings.

CLEANING TARNISHED SILVER JEWELLERY Here is an easy way to return the glow to your silver jewellery. What you need: Water, salt, baking soda and an aluminum plate. What to do: Add 1 tablespoon of salt and 1 tablespoon of baking soda to hot water. Mix it up to dissolve the powders. Pour it onto the plate. Now you can place your silver into the solution. The results may be immediate, or they may take a few minutes. Rinse with warm water. WARNING This technique is not recommended for jewellery with precious or semiprecious stones, nor for antiqued (oxidized) silver as it may remove the finish.
