JEWELLERY NEWSLETTER

NOVEMBER 2010

Welcome to the first edition of my jewellery newsletter. I would like to keep you informed about what's new in the local jewellery scene, to give you suggestions about great gift ideas and to provide tips on how to care for your jewellery.

I am opening my studio one day a week from now until Christmas to offer you time to select gifts or personalize jewellery from my collection. Please call for an appointment. Thursdays from 4 – 9 pm.

CROCHETING IN METAL The necklaces pictured above are part of my STITCHES collection and were hand crocheted using a small gauge crochet hook and metal wire. I began crocheting and weaving with metal five years ago and I have worked to refine my technique. I often complement the metal with fresh water pearls and coral beads.

FACTS ABOUT SILVER

- Silver is highly valued as a precious metal.
- Sterling silver is a mixture of 92.5% pure silver and 7.5% copper, which is added to make the silver harder and more durable.
- The appeal of silver lies in how different it can look, depending on its finish; highly polished and lustrous, brushed or hammered.

MAKE YOUR OWN JEWELLERY Due to popular demand, I am offering two adult classes this fall. Learn how to bend wire and make fun wearable jewellery. Classes will be held at my studio in Chelsea November 13 and Monday, November 22, 9 am – 3 pm. Four people per class. All materials will be provided.
